

A little bit of history

In 2006, because of an obvious need, teacher and psychologist Evely Peniche and her husband Jaime Alonzo sacrificially established a makeshift classroom in their open-air garage. Evely started teaching 12 children in the afternoon. Good news travels fast and by the summer she hired a teacher to help as the number of children reached 50. By the mid 2007, Jaime, Evely and their three teenage daughters moved from the first floor of their home to the second floor. By Aug 2008, the upper balcony of their home also became a classroom. Then in January 2010, the local government told Evely that she could no longer have a school in their home. Thankfully, a two storey rental building near their home came available for the school.

Today the staff is comprised of 12 part-time and full time teachers. The children range from age 3 to 15 and classes are given up to grade 7. God has provided the funds for the building of a new school which the Samaritan Foundation, is currently constructing.

Lucero lives in Villa Progreso with both of her parents and her brother. She is coming from a very poor family. Her father works as a mot-taxi driver and her mother is a housewife.

Lucero likes the red color and she loves watching on television motto races. She enjoys eating chicken and rice. She would like to become a baseball player when she grows up. It would be wonderful to have a sponsor for her studies.

The Nest of Love School is praying to God to send her a sponsor so that she can have an education and a better future. Thanking you in advance for your generosity,

God bless you.
